“ He was a family man who adored his five children.
He was a faithful man to his Wife.
Carl Joseph Mangiaracina loved the outdoors like a child love a cupcake with lots of chocolate frosting
He was proud of his land and throughout his adult life , he took great satisfaction in planting trees
There were years that he grew tomatoes. He made Italian sauce which was the very best I have ever had.
My heart is with his Children and Grandchildren who cherishes him.
He was their “ Old Man”
He was the baby of 5 children and the only boy sibling. Carl was outside when he was still in diapers when he fell in love with all the being outdoors meant to him. Carl was his own man. As long as he was surrounded with his family and the many friends he had then his smile glowed. His smile is his legacy.
I will never forget it because his smile laced bare his heart., and his Spirit.

I am in disbelief that Carl Joseph is gone. I did not know that he was so sick. I knew he had spine problems but nothing else. When I talked with him though, he coughed so much but I know that smokers do cough. I hadn't talked with him for awhile so I never saw a downward health issue or a new health issue.
My heart is with his family. He was a fabulous Dad. My grief will be small in comparison to his immediate family. He was a family, outdoors man, and a man who loved nature. His smile could light the sky on the darkest night.

“ I love him as the sky loves the moon and the stars love the earth. He loved his family like ... The sun loves the children and kisses them on their cheeks. They will never be a day , or night that his memory will be out of my sight on this very beautiful Earth.

“ I will miss you uncle. I always looked forward to our phone calls to talk Dobermans, NRA, and grandkids. You never failed to make me smile and I could always envision your beautiful grin as you made me laugh.

Sending much love to your family that you adored so much. His family was his heart.

He was so proud of his 5 children. He loved being with them. He was a kind man with a tender heart. It is unbelievable that he is gone. He had an abundance of more love to spread around. He was tough and brave but his flip side was kind and sensitive. The best men do have 2 sides of the coin.

“ Carl Joseph Mangiaracina was our Parents youngest of 5 children, and only Son.

My fondest memories are of how much he loved his kids. He was such a proud Dad. I also remember him teaching them the life skills that they would need. He also was a fast learner and could make beautiful things out of anything. He was an avid outdoorsman. He was a Nature Boy as our Mother said from the time he was a baby.

“ Carl worked for the parks department at the time that Toni and I met. It wasn't long before we were out bow hunting for Deer. We saw several but shot and missed so we didn't dwindle the deer population much but had a good time out in the middle of the nature and quiet. It is a good memory. Mike Faulkner

Thank you Mike for the very nice comment. He was a nature lover and hunted with respect. He had a Deer Hide tanned for me about 20 years ago. It was a beautiful thing by our fireplace.

“ He was a man who loved his family. From the time he was in diapers he was an outdoors guy. If one wanted to know where he was then you searched outside. He adored nature and animals. Carl was a good person and was the one there on the roadside to help people. Carl had many many buddies. His smile lit the night sky.
I will miss him forever.
My heart goes out to his family and his presence will always be felt and with them. Family was everything to him.

“ Hey Brother, We had such a happy childhood, playing on “the land”, in the creek, climbing the apple trees, playing in the woods and you hitting me in the arm while I tried to play the piano, it was all so much fun. It was delightful having you come see Jennifer and Jason when they were little on Highland, you would get the biggest kick out of scaring them. I will be looking for you on the day I leave this Earth to go to Heaven. Your Sister Always, t

Carl had a mathematician brain. He could do any math problem in his head on the spot. He was such an intelligent man. Carl was the most energetic guy. He arose very early in the morning and started his day. He was an outdoors man and adored the land and green spaces. He loved trees and planted many. He had a rooster that he love and named him Rod Stewart. He love this Rooster and found it one early morning , killed by a wild animal. He grieved Rod Stewart and laid awake at night outside to get that wild beast. He never got him but he sure did love his beautiful rooster. He adored animals. He had many chickens also and took pleasure in his daily great eggs. Carl would get thrilled over the little nature details of his life and land. When each one of his kids were very smalls he took them out on his tractor. He was then in his glory. His kids, his land and his tractor. He was passionate about life and nature. Passion and excitement for the things he so enjoyed made him a loving person and completed him. He had it is spades.
