“ Frances Duncan Cary is my Grandma. She shared her birthday with her nephew Gary. Me and my brother Greg was raised by our Grandparents. We saw the Duncans through the years. When Uncle Guy died all was at the house. Everyone was upset and I was young. Gary came in and talked to me so I would not be upset and calmed me. I made him my, favorite after that. I am upset as you are but remember his comforting voice telling us to be not afraid holds me strong.

“ Gary and I were classmates. We were both in the marching and concert bands since grade school. We played drums and early on we got to play with the high school band because they were short on drummers. We attended many school band competitions and most of the time brought home a one rating.
