“ Peggy I want to sincerely tell you thank you for taking care of Lee. I know it must have been exhausting taking care of him. I just thank god for bringing you two together. I know you are his soulmate and he was so in love with you. May god be with you, Eric and Valerie and give you peace and comfort. You are in our thoughts and prayers. You know there are so many good memories I have of Lee from times spent fishing and hunting to times when we beat the tar out of each other. There were also times when we had each other's backs. Like the time when mom and dad were going Christmas shopping mom had just spent days decorating the house and making the tree look perfect. Mom and dad's last words as they left was don't mess up the house! Probably not even 5 minutes after they left we got into a fight and the next thing we knew we had knocked over the tree and decorations were everywhere. It didn't take long for us to call a truce and work together to put everything back in place. Thinking we had pulled off the impossible putting the tree back exactly like it was we agreed our story was nothing happened. Mom and dad walked in the house and immediately said what happened to the tree. Our truce was out the door and we quickly turned on each other saying the other one started the fight. Even though there were many many stories of fighting Lee is my big brother and I always love him and always will. I know he's at god side and is at peace. I just hope he has tree stands hung so when we are reunited I won't have to do all the work like usual. I miss you and love you brother! 🙏🏻🙏🏻 Don
