“ Throughout her struggle with Parkinson's Sue kept a positive attitude, a good sense of humor, and was an inspiration to so many. She also became a good friend over the years. She will be greatly missed. My thoughts and prayers are with all her friends and family.

“ I worked with Sue for many years at John Knox Village. She was so very proud of her fried chicken that the residents loved. She always had a smart response for me whenever I came down the hall or into the restaurant, which fit me fine because that was the way our family let us know that we cared for each other so I really appreciated her loving wisecracks. Then we went down the road with Parkinson's and found out it was a very long road but she hung in there and kept going. What a long struggle she had with her health. She must have had a lot of faith to keep going as she did. We all appreciated her for that faith and will miss her so much.
