“Sheran and I were good friends in high school and at Blue Ridge Bible Church, along with her sister Sandy and my sisters (even our mothers were close friends). We had many fun adventures together. To learn that she is gone has made me very sad, even though I know that she is happy where she is and wouldn't want to return to this world.

One of my memories from high school choir was the night that she was chosen to sing the choir's theme song as a solo at the end of one of our concerts. The soloist never knew they were going to sing until right before the concert. She did an excellent job, but I kept wondering through the whole concert about how she was feeling knowing what was coming up at the end.

So long, friend.
